

HARVARD

INTERNATIONAL REVIEW

HIR

We cover the most critical issues
today

Recent HIR Topics Include:

Nuclear Issues    Food
Central Asia    Gender
Modern Warfare    The Arctic

The Harvard International Review is a nonprofit quarterly magazine offering insight on international affairs from the perspectives of scholars, leaders, and policymakers. Since our founding in 1979, we've set out to bridge the worlds of academia and policy through outstanding writing and editorial selection.

The quality of our content is unparalleled. Each issue of the Harvard International Review includes exclusive interviews, editorials, and book reviews by leading international figures, along with expert staff analysis of critical international issues. We have featured commentary by 43 Presidents and Prime Ministers, 4 Secretaries-General of the United Nations, and 6 Nobel Laureates. Our articles have been quoted and featured in magazines, newspapers, books, and websites around the world, and they are required reading at universities from California to Taiwan.

Our global readership translates to a strong advertising audience. Each issue is read on six continents by over 30,000 people—officials, executives, lawyers, professors, and students.

Straight from the movers and shakers

Our exclusive contributors include:

The Dalai Lama    Shimon Peres
Nelson Mandela    Joseph Stiglitz
Ban Ki Moon    Aung San Suu Kyi
Wesley Clark    Bill Clinton
Paul Krugman    Chen Shui-bian
Fareed Zakaria    Larry Summers
Noam Chomsky    Dick Cheney
Kofi Annan    Al Gore
Javier Solana    Jimmy Carter

"The Review gets the right people on the right issues at the right time."

—Joseph S. Nye
former Dean, Kennedy School of Government
Harvard University

And we get it
first

Our articles have been quoted by:

The Economist    Washington Post
New Republic    Newsweek
Times of London    LA Times
Weekly Standard

Global Audience

with 30,000 readers...

"I hope I don't ruin you at Harvard by saying that I am very impressed by the International Review." —Henry Kissinger former US Secretary of State

Our US distribution network is extensive.

The print edition of the HIR has been sold at:

- |                  |                                   |
|------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Barnes and Noble | Doubleday                         |
| Tower Books      | Ink                               |
| Hastings Books   | Barnes and Noble College Stores   |
| Scribner's       | and other independent booksellers |
| Waldenbooks      |                                   |

As a magazine dedicated to global issues, we distribute to over 70 countries on six continents. Because of our international and political editorial focus, more than a tenth of our readers are in the Washington DC, Virginia, and Maryland region. Most of our single copies are sold in Barnes & Noble and Waldenbooks retail stores across the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom. Over half of our readers first discovered the Harvard International Review at work, at school, or in a library, but nearly nine of every ten now get their issues through personal subscriptions or off the newsstand.

Despite its global reach today, the Harvard International Review retains roots in the Harvard University community. We distribute every issue to professors and students throughout the undergraduate and graduate faculties.

About our subscribers...

And our reach is truly global.

Our print issues are read by shoppers and subscribers in over 70 countries, including:

- |           |                |
|-----------|----------------|
| Australia | Netherlands    |
| Austria   | Nigeria        |
| Canada    | Norway         |
| Chile     | Pakistan       |
| China     | Philippines    |
| France    | Poland         |
| Germany   | Saudi Arabia   |
| Greece    | Singapore      |
| India     | South Africa   |
| Italy     | Spain          |
| Japan     | Taiwan, ROC    |
| Malaysia  | Thailand       |
| Mexico    | United Kingdom |

Effective Advertising

"Timely and useful for the busy member of Congress [...] superb group of analysts."

—Richard G. Lugar

former Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee

Advertisements placed in the Harvard International Review get results. A full 60 percent of our readers have responded to ads in the magazine, and nearly half of those responding have purchased the product or service advertised, recommending it to others, or contacted the advertiser directly.

Rates

Regular Placements

	1 Issue	2 Issues
Double-page (two full pages)	$2500	$4000
Full Page	$1800	$3000
Half Page	$1000	$1600

Premium Placements

	1 Issue	2 Issues
Inside Back Cover and Back Cover	$6000	$9000
Back Cover	$4500	$7500
Inside Back Cover	$2500	$4000
Inside Front Cover	$3500	$6000
Opposite Front Cover	$3500	$6000

Sponsorships are 501(c)(3) tax-deductible.

Specifications

Advertisements should have an additional 0.125" bleed; the live area should be 0.25" from the final trim.

Density

Four color ink coverage should be no greater than 280%. Where a large dark solid neutral or black background will be reproduced, the under-color should be reduced so that the density does not exceed 260%. Rotation of the colors is yellow, red, blue, black.

Digital Formats

Acceptable data formats include PDFs (full-page ads only), JPEG, TIFF, PNG, and InDesign. Materials may be sent by email to eics@hir.harvard.edu. Please be sure to include all images and fonts.

We advertise for the best.

Our readership of affluent and influential leaders in business and academia makes the Harvard International Review a top choice for advertisers:

Travel and Transportation

Airbus	Porsche
American Airlines	BMW
Japan Air Lines	Ford Motor
Lufthansa	Saab
Federal Express	Volkswagen
Mobil	Volvo

Technology

Apple Computer	Microsoft
Hewlett-Packard	Siemens
Minolta	NEC
Harman Kardon

Defense

AlliedSignal	McDonnell Douglas
Martin Marietta	United Technologies
General Dynamics
Hughes Electronics

Financial

American Express	Mastercard
------------------	------------

University Presses and Publishers

Cambridge	Oxford
Harvard	MIT
HBS	Princeton
Stanford	The Free Press
Brookings	Viking Penguin
Hoover	Palgrave Macmillan
Basic Books	St. Martin's Press

Publications

Foreign Affairs	The New Republic
Washington Qtlly.	Reason
Barron's	Wall Street Journal
Foreign Policy	NEC